DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The non patent literature document on the IDS filed 1 November 2004 was not considered because it was not provided in the case.

Specification

2. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.
3. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is a duplicate of claim 1. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Applicant is reminded of the proper content of an abstract of the disclosure.

A patent abstract is a concise statement of the technical disclosure of the patent and should include that which is new in the art to which the invention pertains. If the patent is of a basic nature, the entire technical disclosure may be new in the art, and the abstract should be directed to the entire disclosure. If the patent is in the nature of an improvement in an old apparatus, process, product, or composition, the abstract should include the technical disclosure of the improvement. In certain patents, particularly those for compounds and compositions, wherein the process for making and/or the use thereof are not obvious, the abstract should set forth a process for making and/or use thereof. If the new technical disclosure involves modifications or alternatives, the abstract should mention by way of example the preferred modification or alternative. The abstract should not refer to purported merits or speculative applications of the invention and should not compare the invention with the prior art.

Where applicable, the abstract should include the following:

- (1) if a machine or apparatus, its organization and operation;
- (2) if an article, its method of making;
- (3) if a chemical compound, its identity and use;
- (4) if a mixture, its ingredients;
- (5) if a process, the steps.

Extensive mechanical and design details of apparatus should not be given.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-2, 18, 26, and 34-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wen et al. (U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2003/0229678, from hereinafter "Wen").

Regarding claims 1, 18, 26, and 34-38, Wen teaches a method of requesting assistance relating to a product item which includes sensing some of the coded data on the interface surface (step S2) with a sensor (scanning module in wireless device 2), generating indicating data indicative of the product item identity with a processor (wireless device 2) (step S3), and transferring the indicating data to a computer system being responsive to the indicating data to cause provision of assistance with a communication means (step S4, where product information database 411 is searched for product information 410 and step S5). Regarding claim 2, Wen teaches that the coded data is indicative of an assistance request, in the form of requesting price and product information detail (see Figures 1-2, paragraphs 16-28).

Allowable Subject Matter

Art Unit: 2876

5. Claims 3-17, 19-25, and 27-33 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The best prior art of record, Wen, fails to specifically teach the further clarifying methods steps of providing assistance through a product registration, etc. Further, Wen fails to teach the steps of acquiring the location information.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure: U.S. Patent No. 6,671,698 to Pickett et al. which teaches a method and system for automated tracing of an agricultural product.
